Protected Algarve Nature Reserve

San Lorenzo Golf Course was opened in 1988 amidst a range of exceptional natural surroundings that stretch from the edge of Quinta do Lago, through the Ria Formosa Nature Reserve and out to the Atlantic Ocean. The picturesque setting features a host of towering pine woods that open up to spectacular sea views and distant mountain backdrops; as well as offering a beautiful habitat for over 70 bird species, including herons, hoopoes, white storks, coots, black-winged stilts and the rare purple gallinule. The course itself is laid out in a delicate figure of eight, at the heart of which lies the San Lorenzo Clubhouse, a golf pro shop, comfortable changing facilities and a welcoming bar and restaurant.
